efforts have been made to stimulate volunteering, but this lar without practical result. Meetings of citizens are held daily, and money is liberally subscribed to the bounty fund; yet even this bait fails totempt the poorer classes, who frequently answer the appeals to their patriotism by asking the wealthy men why they do not set an example by enlisting themselves? In some instances these meetings have been broken up in regular rows. Criminals have been released from prison on condi-tion of their joining the army, and every possible subterfuge is resorted to in the hope of avoiding a general draft; but the impression is that the quota of Massachusetts cannot be furnished by any other means, and hence the newspapers are laboring to convince the public mind of the peculiar advantages of a measure which the masses condemn. A statement has been put in circulation that thirtythousand men have already volunteered in several States, but this was so utterly at variance with the truth that a New A ork journal refused to give it currency, and came out with a flat contradiction.

While Jackson's Brigade was on picket at Blackland, the Yankees who had followed us, attacked the pickets under Gen. Buck. A considerable fight ensued, which ended in the flight of the enemy. A section of the Washington Artillery, of Augusta, was in the fight. A few weeks ago, Gen. Chalmers was sent to Ripley to drive the Yankees from that place, but they obtained information, it is supposed, that he was coming, and immediately retreated, burning their tents and a considerable amount of commissary. stores. There are but few, if any of the enemy between here and Corinth. They cannot remain at Corinth, for the reason that the supply of water is scant.

Halleck's grand army is now divided. A portion of it is at Hundwille under Buell, a portion at Corinth, and a still larger portion is reported to have passed through Nashville en route to Washington to reinforce McClellan. It is reported that Buell is withdrawing his forces from Chattanooga and Huntsville, fearing a movement in his rear by General Bragg, who now commands the army of the West, in the absence of General Beauregard, on account of feeble health.

The health of the army has improved considerably, since leaving Corinth. Last Saturday the army of the Mississippi was reviewed by Generals Bragg, Polk and Hardee. It was a beautiful sight to see thousands of brave soldiers passing in review before their commanding Gener-

SECESSIONISM IN MARYLAND, -A Baltimore correspondent of the New York Post, under date of 25th ult., pays;

I am sorry to announce that the situa ion of things here is not comfortable. The fact is undeniable, that the Legislature of the State, Union, largely according to the meaning of the word, when elected, sympathizes so deeply with secession as to make it dangerous to the public safety to be convened. The second branch of the City Council has finally rejected the ordnames of the first branch voting $300,000 to help recruiting of volunteers for Maryland's quota, notwithstanding the law gives them full power to borrow money and appropriate it for the purpose of defence.

The true Union men are becoming very tolerant of the patience shown by the government to the rebels, and there is no elling whither they will drift. And to add to the confusion, the pro-slavery Unionets are making war upon the anti-slavery Unionists. Only yesterday one of our most respectable citizens, the Charles Summer, of Maryland, in regard to the testimony he has borne against the crime of most respectable citizens, the Charles Summer, of Maryland, in regard to the testimony he has borne against the crime of slavery for twenty odd years past in this city, was warned by the military authorities to restrain his expression of opinions in regard to the manuer of prosecuting the war. To give point to their accusation against spoken disrespectfully of the President, though he had done no such thing, being a warm supporter of Mr. Lincoln. And yet the military authorities signified to him that no man, whether level or disleyed, would be allowed to arraign the President.

Pive Days Later From Europe, By the arrival of the Jura, off Cape Race

we have five days later from Enrope:
The London Daily Telegraph publishes extracts from letters addressed by the Prince de Joinville to his brother, the Ducd' Aumale giving an account of the retreat of Gen. McClellan's army to the James river, written June 27. The Prince shows the causes which compelled Gen. McClellan to undertake the movement. On the provious day it was suddenly announced that Jackson was about to act on McClellan's rear and that Beaureward had arrived at Richmond.

The Prince says that all that greatly complicated our situation, and it was then and there determined to take up a new base of operation upon the James river under the protection of the gunboats. He describes the part he took in arresting the panic among the Union troops, and says, "Your Prince and his nephews were more than once under a most violent fire of musketry and artillety, and acted with distinguished bravery."

The London Times in commenting on the Confiscation bill, says: "Happily it is certain that no ruler will ever dare to put in force this scandalous law. It will only remain a monument of infamy to have been destroyed after being sacked, those who passed it, and be ranked here-A letter from near Sattillo, Miss., to Charleston harbor and the savage vagaries

MOBILE, Aug. 13. A special dispatch to the Advertiser & Register, dated Knoxville, Aug. 13th, says a passenger from Nashville, via Huntsville and Stevenson, reports that the roads are lined with Federal troops and that all the bridges are strongly guarded.

Our Guerillas are a constant source inovance to them. The train from Stevenson to Huntsville had been fired into and three Yankees were killed.

On Wednesday last Col. McCook, bother of the late General, enroute for Decatur, in an Ambulance, attended by a body-guard, was attacked by our Guerillas and killed.

Everything outside of Huntsville presents a scene of desolation. Houses Gens. Buell and Rosseau have 20,000

The Yankees did not withdraw their whole force from opposite Vicksburg, on the late retirement. They left about six huddred and fifty men, who are strongly entrenched in bomb-proof ditches. These Yankees are under orders not to move until the Arch-Angel sounds the last great reville for all the nations of the earth Some died of fever and some of the Arkaneas. In plain words they all died.

Our friend Pipes thinks Vicksburg would he a pleasant place, if he only had a buggy to ride and drive in. The streets, he says has been thoroughly shelled.

It is said that musquetoes have taken the place of bombs. They draw more blood than did the explosive of the Yankees. We hope some of those who have lately left the hospital shores of Vicksburg have a lively recollection of musquitoes,

To whom is the honor of the "Arkansas' " exploits due? Some say her builder should have the dit, and it may be that some enterprising deluer after remote honors will trace back to the miner who brought the iron of her armor from the bowels of the hills. The truth is, Gen. Van Dorn ordered the Arkansas out of the Yazoo river, and Captain Brown heroically fought his way down. Usefulness and credit may be gained by planning and by success in safe labor, but good fame like that of the "Arkansas," is born where shot fly thick and bombs burst low.

It is difficult to find out what is going on in a military way in these parts. The citizens and stragglers around can tell much of marches to be made and battles to be fought, but when, as a newspaper man, I ask at Headquarters or whereabouts, for information, no one knows what is going on. Some think cavalry should be sent all along down the river to protect plantations, and some say that light batteries should plunge shot and shell into every boat which may pass any hill on the great river. It artillery men and cavalry soldiers were as plentiful as advisers, or half as numerous as suggesters, all of these things could ann would be done. If President Davis had as large an army of soldiers as he has of censors, Yankee doodle would have been whipped long, long age. Davis keeps the Union sentiment out of sight I know not; but there is none of the latter to he seen; and, on the other hand, death would be considered light to the chivalry compared with entering into a new Union with the hated Yankees. Our blockade had deprived them of all the luxuries, and most of the comforts of life, but their spirit

Can such a people be subjugated? If we avail of our strength, yes! as surely as twenty is more than eight.

But the work cannot be done by dollars. nor by talk. "Poer white trash" may be ignorant and ragged, but they have muscle, and we shall soon feel it nearer home than we have done, unless the torpid blood of Lexington and Bunker Hill arouses itselt. I walk the streets of Northern cities and find their very respectable inhabitants engaged in the usual avocations of peaceful life, as unconcernedly and with a much apathy as though there were no such thing as war in the land-as though a volcano were not about to burstover them; with no more apparent conception of "the situation" and their disgrace before the world than a child unborn.

They continue to indulge the strange underestimating the South. A Soldiery that has been unpoid for months; has lived on half rations of coarse food for two months, and continues to do so; that never had any clothes, and doesn't want any now; that has only one idea; I say such an army is not to be lightly esteemed, and is not to be cruseed by appealing to government, and offering it dollars to shower at traitors. The government, on the contrary, appeals to you, and as you do not possess virtue to answer that appeal, it save your country, if you will not do it der were taken out and hung to trees by save your country, if you will not do it

Such of his army as have already les have been sent to Pope or Burnside, b pe to the former. Burnside is known to e at Fredericksburg.

A Fortress Monroe letter in the New York Tribune, of Friday last, says "Burnside's army have certainly not gone far, as the transports which left with the troops a day or two since have already returned." A party who was recently in McClellan's army, says the parties who are throwing fortifications on the opposite side of the river, have never exceeded fifteen hundred or two thousand, and laborers and soldiers are changed every day, a fresh party going over in the morning, and those who wen over the previous day immediately returning. It is considered a nort of excursion to cross the river, and the south bank has been declared by the Yankee surgeons the FREDERICKSBURG, VA., Aug. 7. The expedition sent out under General Gibbon last Tuesday has returned. A portion of the command under Colonel Cutler dashed off to the right, and made a decent upon Frederick Hall station, twelve miles from Gordonsville, on the Central Railroad, destroying the buildings, stores and about half a mile of the track.

General Gibbon, with the main body had a sharp skirmish with the enemy on the Richmond telegraph road, ten miles rom Fredericksburg. A few prisoners. were taken. We lost but one man killed and several taken prisoners. But two of Generall Gibbon's column were wound-

THE YANKEE NAVY .- Captains Charles Stewart, Read, Shubrick, Joseph Smith, Storer, Gregory, Levallette, Stringham Paulding, U. S. N., have been promoted Rear Admirals on the retired list.

Captain Farragut, Goldsborough, Duoont and Foote have sheen appointed Rear Admirals on the active list, according to the act of the Yankee Congress of July

The act authorizes a list of 18 Rear Admirals retired, and as many active, 36 Captains, 72 Commandants, 144 Lieutenant-Commanders, 144 Lieutenanie, 144 Masters, 144 Ensigns (a new grade,) and Midshipmen according to the supply from the Naval Academy.

Rear Admirals rank with Major-Generais, Commodores with Brigadiers, Captains with Colonels.

GEN. McCOOK KILLED-EXCITEMENT AT NASHVILLE .- Gen. R. L. McCook, of the Yankee army, was killed, near Salem, Alabama, on 5th instant by "guerillas." A letter from Nashville, in the Philadel. Prees, says:

Is IT A CONET ?-We understand that several persons residing within a few mile of this city have seen for the past night or two a large star, which has excited their curiosity. It was first observed on Saturday night last, and rose in the East a little after 9 o'clock P.
